DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1, 2, and 4-11, drawn to methods for identifying a gene modulator.

Group 2, claim(s) 12-16, and 18-26, drawn to methods for detecting a fibrotic disorder.

Group 3, claim(s) 27-29, 31-37 and 40-42, drawn to methods for modulating gene expression.

Group 4, claim(s) 43-49, drawn to arrays of polynucleotides.

Further Lack of Unity Restriction Requirement

If Applicants elect Group 1, 2, 3, or 4, Applicants shall further select a single specific combination of at least one gene from those genes recited in claims 6-11 (relevant to Group 1), claims 19-24 (relevant to Group 2), claims 31-37 (relevant to Group 3), or claims 44-49 (relevant to Group 4). Applicants should point out where in the specification the genes of the selected particular combination are discussed. For claims requiring specific genes, only claims reciting genes of the selected particular combination will be examined, and the claims will only be examined in so far as they require the selected particular combination. Claims not reciting the genes of the selected combination will be withdrawn from examination as drawn to a non-elected invention. Generic claims will be examined to their full generic extent.

2. The inventions listed as Groups 1-4 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. The common technical feature of the different groups is the differential expression of genes in fibrotic tissue. However, such a feature is not a special technical feature in view of the prior art of Skubitz et al (citation R49 on the IDS of 10/08/2008). Skubitz et al teaches an analysis of gene expression in fibrotic tissue, using a human genome array, to identify differentially expressed genes. As such the common technical feature is not a special technical feature.

With regard to the further lack of unity restriction requirement, the different recited genes and the different combinations thereof lack unity because the different genes are unique as they are composed of particular nucleic acid sequences that are not common to one another.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

Art Unit: 1634

All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
